BRIEF RISE IN PRICES

Realizing of Profits Produced Profound Dullness.

Time Loans Made at Five Per Cent Sharp Advance in Northern Securities--Market Closed Dull

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Members of the New York Stock Exchange were anxious to inaugurate the trading in their new building with an upward movement of prices for the same reason that an experienced nurse wish to carry a new born baby upstairs before it shall take a downward trip. Apparently a very brief upward movement was sufficient to satisfy the solicitous that the "hoodo," which has popularly been supposed to hang yer the market since the exchange has been in the temporary quarters, has been shaken off.

At all events, the rise in prices proved too tempting for those long of stocks to resist, and they began to relieve themselves of their hoidings and to realize profits. The most notable effect of this turn of affairs was the profound duliness which it produced in the market, but the settling tendency of prices also resulted, which gradually wiped out the coasid-erable gains established during the first hour and forced prices to a level generally below Tuesday night's closing. The immediate cause of this decline was not clearly perceptible, but it seemed due in large part to a distrust of the longer future of the money market and the background offered by the possibility of a further extensive anti-trust campaign.

Immediate influences were favorable to an advance. The money market and the background offered by the possibility of a further extensive anti-trust campaign.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch).

NEW YORK, April 23.—The Commercial-Advertiser says: The stock market in its new quarters opened up with considerable enthusiasm this morning. A seneral demonstration in favor of higher prices had been looked for so universally that it was rather surprising to Willistreet that expectations were so well realized. Prices started off with all street that expectations were so well realized. Prices started off with all round gains, extending from Mark of a point from Tuesday's closing. This had been preceded by an advance of smaller dimensions in the London market. At the high levels profit-taking naturally set in at once; a good many speculators had carried their stocks over the holiday simply on the theory, that they could assembly the selling a larke part of the active list soon lost all their gain. It was noteworthy, however, that the market grew dull rather than weak continue their worthy, however, that the market grew dull rather than weak continue their worth, however, that the market grew dull rather than weak continue their worth, however, that the market grew dull rather than weak continue their spurchases on the rising level. The result was that the market enjoyed very little movement after the first hour, and toward the close cased off very generally. Not losses were more common than net gains at the close. Money continued very casy throughout the session, and the banks added to their purchases on the rising level. The Evening Post savs: Opening of business in the new Stock Exchange building was marked, as Wall Street had expected and predicted, by an advance in prices. The advance did not continuous, and by noon the market fel into dullness with moderate reaction. During this initial movement conspicuous gains over Tuesday's closing was % apleve in Atchieon, Brooklyn Rapid Transit. St. Paul, Southern Pacific, ½ in General Electric and Leuisville, %, in Missouri Pacific 1, in Manhattan, 1% in Metropolitan, 1% in Colorado Fuel and 3½ in Consolidated Ga.

In Mannatian, 1% in Metropolitar, 1% in Colorado Fuel and 3% in Consolidated Ga.

Mot of these stocks returned gradually, later on, to their opening level; some of them went lower. Among these weaker spots were St. Paul, Amalgamated Copper and Pennsylvania.

There was, in point of fact, no special reason for any change in prices, the day's news being purely negative. To such extent as the money situation was an influence developments were favorable. The Trensury again, as shown by this morning's bulletin, paid a handsome ballance to the market. Since Saturday's lank return was compiled, it has paid over £1,00,000 as against £200,000 paid by it in the same time a week are, £41,000 paid a fortnight since, and £1,000,000 paid by hanks to the covernment in the opening week of April, This is the most reasuring sign at present visible. The Mail and Express says: The expected happened on to-day's stock market, that is, the early quotations showed a general improvement equal to 160 min the prominent rullways, and even more in the case of some of the specialties and industrials. This condition was in a measure the outcome of sentiment. It certainly caused much satisfaction in the board room, where there was a very general desire to have the inaugural business session in the new building marked by a cheeful one. The upbidding of the market on Tuesday was partly for the purpose to producing this very effect. With the lapse of time, however, there was considerable profit-taking and the market lost some of its advance and enthusiasm, but ralled again with the late improvement abroad.

It can be said that London was instrumental in paving the way for the opening rise on our exchange, as international securities on the other side moved with much uniformity in the face of decline in British consols and other home securities, based on the defance of the English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over the failure of the Bank of English army in Somalland and disappointment over

WALL STREET GOSSIP

First Day in the New Building-Cheerful Feeling, but Opening Prices Best.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—The opening was strong in sympathy with the higher range of prices in London and the general desire to start cheerfully in the new bullong. There was a very large attendance of members, and a general disposition all around to make the best of any news. Commission houses had quite a respectable supply of buying orders.

READING'S STRENGTH:

The strength in Reading was noticeable in view of the interstate Commerce Commission's inquiry. The earnings are the probable reason for the strength, as the showing for March should be very good and the increase since the termination of the strike have actually wiped out the loss made while it was on.

TEXAS & PACIFIC:
The old buil pool, which carried Texas and Pacific up to 54 last September, has taken the steck in hand again, and was probably never able to sell its holdings. Members of the pool, which has rather strong Gould affiliations, say that earnings justify considerably high prices:

THE FIRST HOUR: THIS FIRST HOUR:
The market maintained a fairly firm tone throughout the first hour, although the professional element seemed doubtful as to whether the sentimental impulse would carry it very far. A good deal of hope, however, was placed on the presence in town of a number of operators from other centers, most of whom expressed bullish sentiments.

AMALGAMATED COPPER:
Mr. Harrison's selling of Copper was alleged to be for the Lewishchus. It is at least true that there has been some trade selling on the recent rally, and London continues very suspicious of the supposed American manipulation in the price of the metal.

TRACTIONS ACTED WELL:
The Tractions acted well, which was probably a reflection of the termination of the session at Albany without the fevelopment of any dangerous legislation.
Something might have been expected in view of the recent State Railroad Commission's inquiry.

THE AFTERNOON:

The market in the early afternoon was somewhat dull with a tendency to ease off a little, although there was not very marked change. The commission house business was disappointing, but London bought a little stock from the curb, in addition to its early purchases, and the remission of taxation is likely to stimulate bullish sentiments abroad.

THE CLOSE:

THE CLOSE:

The marker closed quiet, and although sme of the advances on the day were cetained, there was enough profit-taking around the room to prevent any considerable enthusiasm. The first day's trading in the new building had turned out about as satisfactorily as could be expected, and the feeling at the close was moderately cheerful.

FAIR AMOUNT OF STRENGTH:
The second hour's trading showed a fair amount of strength, although the trading seemed to be narrower. There had been quite a large volume of profit-taking, which did not weaken the market, but certainly checked it. The departure of a number of the leading men to Europa early gave the idea that the market might be expected to narrow still further.

COTTON MARKETS.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 264 points, and followins the call ruled generally quiet as to volume of transactions, though prices displayed considerable irregularity. The initial decline was due to lower English cables and the rather heavier port reccipts forecasted for the day, while the weather reports indicated somewhat more favorable conditions throughout the crogrountry. The decline in Liverpool was attributed by private cables to liquidation by the bulls in that market, and there seemed to be more or less liquidation in the crogmonths in the local market which, while showing brief periods of strength, worked generally downward to a level 268 points below the final prices of yesterday with the new crop months showing the greatest relative firmness as a result of covering. From this point there was a partial recovery under the moderate estimates for receipts at leading points to-morrow, but there was little demand, and prices shortly sagged off again, then ruled Irregular until the close, just prior to which there was a slight improvement under room covering. The market was finally steady, net 1 point higher to 7 points lower.

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—COTTON—The spot cotton market was featureless to-day; quointions unchanged.

The future market was fairly active and the fluctuations frequent. At the opening prices were $35 points lower, reached $64 points additional, and then regained $26 points. The decline was attributed to the failure of Liverpool to respond to yesterday's American markets and somewhat more favorable weather conditions. Compared with yesterday's closing April was even, May, June and July lost $63 points, and the other menths $268 points, July, August, September and October were the active months.

We are sorry our friend Alexander, of Atlanta, on his way to New York, via Washington and Richmond and Man-chester, has left. He came to us as a bright spot in the clouds on a rainy day, and left us with grief in our eyes, and tears in our voice. He came to us as a stranger and left as a life-long friend and bosom com-panion.

We ran up against it together, had to walk home once or twice, but we bobbed up serenely all right. And when the train bore him away to-wards the dark and dismal North, we wrung our hands. His introduction to us from our friend Snocks was unlaus. Snooks, was unique.

We used to hang to the railing of that gallery and our eyes used to bulge out as "Richard the Third" hobbied about, and as "Macbeth" saw things.

If Mr. Whitecar wasn't so much older than us, we'd probably call him Bill, like we heard somebody else say. He don't look any older, though, and we think we shall take chances and call him Bill, anyhow.

Bill told us a good story last night after the show.

Bill told us a good story last hight diter the show.

"We were putting on a new piece, one night," he said, "and old man Saivini couldn't keep to his lines very well.

Neither could I. There was one particularly strong scene, and the stage was full of people. It was up to the old man to say something, but he couldn't think

"After a wait of probably a minute, which seemed like an hour, in order to break the suspense. I turned to a man on the stage, who hadn't said a word for ten minutes, and shouted:

"Silence" 'Silence!'

"'Slience!'
"That broke the suspense. Salvini caught his lines, mine came back to me, and the show went on without another hitch. And that reminds me."—But we interfered.
We thought one story like that enough for one night, and after we had smoked a few eigarettes and some ginger ale, we dispersed to another time.

Pay of County Treasurers.

Benator W. P. Barksdale, of Hallfax, appeared before the Senate Committee on Finance yesterday morning and spoke in favor of his bill to change the method of paying county treasurers for their services. At present the treasurers receive a larger percentage on the first collections of taxes for the year than for those which follow, and the bill of the Hallfax Senator proses to reverse this and give the larger And we done it, we hope.
